Dismissal or Withdrawal Authorization

Eagle's Nest Camp welcomes campers with diverse abilities to participate in its programs. Campers will be expected to engage in numerous camp activities that include, but are not limited to: hiking, swimming, fishing, boating/paddling activities, wilderness and camping activities (including overnights), athletic activities including archery, horseback riding, volleyball, soccer, softball and arts activities requiring focus and use of tools. Campers will be required to successfully engage in age appropriate independent living and perform necessary self-care including maintaining adequate nutrition and hydration, dressing appropriately for environmental conditions, maintaining personal hygiene, managing known medical conditions and sharing prepared meals and living spaces with other campers. Campers will be required to work cooperatively as a member of a group and support a team approach with flexibility and the ability to compromise on an interpersonal and group level.

Eagle's Nest Camp is not a therapeutic camp and does not have clinical therapists on staff or provide clinical services to campers. Campers may be dismissed or withdrawn from the program without refund if the administration determines that the camper poses a physical or emotional safety risk to themselves or other campers.

Based on the above information, if you are concerned with your child's ability to participate in camp activities and living requirements at Eagle's Nest Camp, we strongly encourage you to contact the Camp Director prior to completing the application to discuss if reasonable accommodations will be necessary and whether those accommodations can be granted. Eagle's Nest Camp intends this dialogue to part of an interactive process and a resource tool early in the application process and not as a way to exclude or screen applicants.

Eagle's Nest strongly encourages trip insurance.

EAGLE'S NEST CAMP AND HANTE ADVENTURES ALTERATIONS AND FORCE MAJEURE

Eagle's Nest Camp and Hante Adventures (ENC) endeavor to follow the program itineraries as may be described in ENC marketing materials or other program information. However, ENC reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to alter or cancel any aspect of the program, including itineraries and/or planned activities, as needed, to address changing conditions, for the health and well-being of participants/staff or for other reasons in the sole discretion of Eagle's Nest Foundation (ENF) and ENC.

The Camp's duties and obligations under this Agreement will be suspended immediately without notice during any period that the Camp or program is closed due to force majeure events, including but not limited to, any fire, act of God, war, acts or regulations of public authorities, terrorism, epidemic, pandemic, or any other event beyond ENC's or ENF's control that could, in the judgment of ENC and ENF administrators, compromise the health or well-being of participants/staff or otherwise prevent performance. Neither ENC nor ENF shall be responsible, liable, or found in breach of this Agreement for any tuition refund or any loss, costs, or damages for any program alteration, including any changes in the itinerary, cancellation, or other alteration resulting from such force majeure events.

If such a force majeure event occurs, ENC and ENF's duties and obligations in the Agreement will be postponed, altered, suspended or cancelled if and/or until such time as the ENC and ENF, at its sole discretion, may safely reopen and may safely resume performance. The Camp reserves the right to alter the Camp calendar, daily schedule, or session length in order to complete the program or provide alternative programming.

Should such a force majeure event preclude the ability of ENC to open its session or program, the Camp will refund tuition monies paid less the non-refundable deposit. Should such a force majeure event force a closure of Camp or Hante after the beginning of the session or program, ENC and ENF will act reasonably to mitigate the damages due to the events or circumstances triggering this force majeure clause, and in its sole discretion, will refund recoverable amounts where possible. ENC and ENF shall be considered to have earned all fees, costs, expenses, tuition and payments that are not held as financial credits which have not been spent (such as canteen accounts, for example) as soon as the program commences in the event such a force majeure event occurs.

Eagle's Nest strongly recommends purchasing trip refund insurance that covers cancellation for any reason.

By my signature I acknowledge that I have read and agree to the contractual terms and Eagle's Nest's literature and policies.
